

G-12 — Cookies & Tracking Notice

Document reference: G-12 | Region: Global | Version: [TBD] | Effective date: [TBD]

WORKING DRAFT — PUBLICATION CONTROL. Do not publish until the related launch dependencies are confirmed.

1. Purpose

This notice sets out RedTree's position on cookies, trackers and similar technologies, across both the public website and the RedTree applications.

2. RedTree's position

RedTree's confirmed launch design uses:

- no cookies requiring consent;
- no trackers or tracking technologies;
- no analytics or audience measurement tools;
- no behavioural or targeted advertising;
- no third-party trackers for advertising or profiling.

No consent mechanism is therefore required at present, since no technology subject to consent is set or read.

3. Strictly necessary technologies

Should a technology strictly necessary to operate the service be used, it would be used only so far as necessary and in line with applicable law. That category covers, in particular:

- authentication and security;
- remembering the user's choices;
- session management;
- delivering a feature the user has expressly requested;
- the technical handling of a subscription or payment.

These technologies do not require prior consent where they meet the statutory conditions for exemption.

4. Payment providers

Payment is handled by Stripe. Stripe may set items strictly necessary for transaction security and fraud prevention on its own payment pages or components.

Those items are part of the operation of the payment service and are not used by SIMG SASU for audience measurement, advertising or profiling.

5. Future changes

If RedTree were to consider using a technology subject to consent, this notice would be updated and, where the law requires it, a consent mechanism would be put in place before that technology is activated.

No tracker subject to consent will be set or read before the user has made a choice.

6. Your rights and settings

Most browsers allow cookies to be blocked or deleted. As RedTree does not rely on any cookie subject to consent, these settings do not affect access to the service.

7. Related documents

This notice supplements the Global Privacy Policy, whose section on cookies and similar technologies states the same position.
